

DMS Briefs :Not In The News (July 6, 2010)

Franco Sighting

Lt. Governor Franco, who had not been seen cutting any ceremonial ribbons in weeks, was spotted in Buddhoe Park during Saturday's Emancipation Day Celebration. A Demmansay.com's roving investigator reported that DeWolf and his wolverines had their Puerto Rican/Santo splash last week where they walked into this ocean backwards. The obeah woman from Haiti, imported just for the event, informed DeWolf that she would need to take Franco to Santo Domingo for a special bath. If the special bath worked, Franco will be able to debate his opponents in the upcoming election. Go for it, Franco!!! Welcome back!!!

DeWolf Drug Challenge

Following the launching of DeWolf's latest website accusing people who Demmansay.com respect for their bravery and courage, Recon and Attorney Jeffrey Moorhead challenge John DeJongh to a drug test at a neutral, certified lab. Let's see who doing dope.