

LEE ROHN Backs Out of Plea

Lee Rohn

After a lengthy meeting at the Attorney General's Office on Friday 2/12 and spending Wednesday and Thursday (2/17 & 2/18) with former senators Alicia "Chucky" Hansen & David "The Perv" Jones, Attorney Lee Rohn may have gotten cold feet and didn't enter a plea on Friday as promised. DemMansay.com was able to intercept the school bus carrying children to the Superior Court on St. Croix to witness, firsthand, just how uneven the playing field is when it comes to administering justice to the "haves and the have-nots" in this territory.

The scheme is still alive and well on Rohn's part. Just last week, Rohn interviewed Detective Heisman for a position in her office. What's the significance of this event? Heisman is one of the officers who had the drugs from Rohn's case in his custody. The next scheduled hearing in Rohn's case is set for March 22, 2010. That is expected to be for trial or for a Change of Plea. DemMansay.com will stay on top of this case and keep you posted.
