

VIPD Rescues “Sticky Fingers” from Beatdown

One of our roving reporters has reported that “Sticky Fingers” had to be rescued from a good Crucian beatdown, during the St Croix Festival Activities. Eyewitnesses recount “Sticky Fingers” and a Mr. Schang in the Fredriksted area. Retired Police Betty Wilson approached and engaged Mr. Schang in a dialogue. At some point in time, “Sticky Fingers” determined that the conversation between Schang and Wilson had exceeded her tolerance. She proceeded to interrupt their conversation, asking Wilson if “you can’t see that Mr. Schang is working?” When Ms Wilson looked at “Sticky Fingers” in total disbelief, “Sticky Fingers” inquired of Wilson as to whether or not Wilson knew who she was. “Sticky Fingers, then identified herself and job title to Ms Wilson, and put her hand in ms. Wilson’s face. Wilson responded by offering “Sticky Fingers” a good “Crucian beatdown”. Almost immediately thereafter, Mr. Schang took off running away, abandoning “Sticky Fingers”, as VIPD officers rushed to the scene to rescue “Sticky Fingers”

This is yet another example of the arrogance of the Dejongh Regime. Turning on her siren and pulling cars over (which she doesn’t have any LEGAL authority to do) isn’t enough for our favorite kleptomaniac, Now she’s putting her hands in other peoples’ face. “Sticky Fingers” for your own personal safety, PLEASE recognize that not everyone is a little baby cub in the DeWolf Wolfpack. That type of behavior will get you seriously injured, here in the VI
